Ex-C.I.A. Head For Penalizing Aides Who Leak Data

PRINCETON, N.J., June 5- Mr. Colby added: "It applies mittee's report on the C.LA, prove the discipline of those See fal to The New York Times. Alliam E. Colby, the former only to the individual who The symposium was spon- who know the secrets. irector of Central Intelligence, joined the intelligence service, sored by The Daily Prince- Mr. Schorr said he concurred roposed today that any re- not to Daniel Schorr or who- tonian, the student newspaper with some of Mr. Colby's sugroposed today that any re- not to Daniel Schorr or who tothan, the student hewspaler and some gestions for preventing virtualities on the ever got the agent to tell, be- at Princeton University, as one gestions for preventing virtualities of severe documents to cause Mr. Schorr and all other festivities that have been going "It's the job of Government to press should be placed on reporters are protected under on here all weekend. The process to test to find ternal Revenue man reveals including Mr. Schorr, the CBS such as reporters. Mr. Schorr warned that pur return, he commits a TV investigate reporter who "There you do conflict wit's "until we get back on an even-ime."

In explaining his proposal, of the House Intelligence Con- "There are instead ways to imon here all weekend, to keep secrets, and it's the In discussing ways to elimi-job of the press to try to find nate unauthorized disclosures, out what's going on," Mr. Think our intelligence at a cound-table discussion on he rejected the idea of an offi-Schorr said. "But once a journ-zeds the same sort of protec-"The Ethics of Leaks: The cial secrets act with criminal alist has a secret, there is no many and no more—that we Right to Withhold Versus the penalties against the transfer constitutional power for the ford to your income tax re-Right to Know," which was of confidential information to Government to try to grab it ternal Revenue man reveals including Mr. Schorr, the CBS-such as reporters.

gave The Village Voice a copy; the First Amendment," he said course in this country and get away from Watergat, we will need a certain amount of whistle-blowing and leaking." He added:

> "If our intelligence agencies, in a great and painful inquest, can cover up anything as they have done in the past, one way to be sure they will not in the future is to have a young man; who will leak and leave the: salutary benefits of leaking to society."

Edward Barrett, director of the Communications Institute and former dean of the Columbia Journalism School, suggested that Mr. Colby's pro-Iposal b modified to include a bipartisan blue-ribbon appeals panel composed of citizens with security clearances.

"This should be an independent body that people like Danil Ellsberg can appeal to if they feel information is being improperly withheld," Mr. Barrett explained. Daniel Elisberg has said that he gave the "Pentagon Papers" to the press.

Jose Ferrer 3d, editor of the law section of Time magazine, disagreed with Mr. Colby's pro-

"I'm not convince dthat the depth of the problem calls for new laws," Mr. Ferrer said, "Watergate seems to point in the other direction, Legislation to push back to an era of greater secrecy is not now called for."

Others on the panel were; William Attwood, the publisher of Newsday, William Ewing of Philadelphia, a lawyer; and Donald Oberdorfer, a nationalaffairs reporter for The Washington Post. John B. Oakes.

Approved For Release 2005/01/12 : CIA-RDP88-013/15/R0007

erator.